

THE O MAHONY JOURNAL

The O Mahony Journal, the official organ of the Society, was designed to carry forward the efforts of the late Eoin O Mahony, K.M., barrister-at-law and genealogist, to help us understand and enjoy our Irish heritage. Eoin O Mahony was an inspiration to his kinsmen: it was he who initiated The O Mahony Gathering and saw its inception in 1955 at Rath Raithleann, that ancient seat and "cradle" of the O Mahonys at Gurranes, Templemartin, in County Cork. He contributed to the work of the select band of modern Munster scholars who cultivate and further awaken in our people a deeper interest in their beginnings.

Papers and notes for publication, articles from journals for review and all business relating to the journal must be addressed to the Hon. Editor. Articles on genealogical and historical research are welcomed. All material submitted for publication must be typewritten, and may be on disk, and should quote bibliographical references. Photographs, maps and other illustrations appearing the journal are the copyright of The O Mahony Society, except those that are attributed to their source. The journal is supplied free to active members and is published in the June / July timeframe.
